WELCOME TO THE DIGITAL CONCERT HALL

Once again there is a wealth of fantastic concerts in the 2011/2012 Berliner Philharmoniker season – and you can be there to experience them live on the Web. There are over 30 concert broadcasts in excellent HD quality to look forward to, with conductors and soloists who represent a “Who’s Who” of contemporary classical music.

The Berliner Philharmoniker continues the Mahler cycle under chief conductor Sir Simon Rattle that was begun last season. There are also two highlights with Sir Simon on the programme for opera fans: a concert performance of Carmen with Magdalena Kožená and Jonas Kaufmann, and Wagner’s Die Walküre. Murray Perahia, this season’s Pianist in Residence with the Berliner Philharmoniker, is only one of many leading instrumentalists to be appearing, and he will be joining Simon Rattle to perform Schumann’s Piano Concerto.

As well as the live broadcasts, you can access over 100 recordings from the last three years in our ever-growing concert archive. In addition, there are concerts with Claudio Abbado from his time as chief conductor of the Berliner Philharmoniker, films about the orchestra, documentaries on its education programme, and a host of artist interviews.

Founded in 2009, the Digital Concert Hall is supported exclusively by Deutsche Bank, which has been a sponsor of the Berliner Philharmoniker since 1989 and makes the orchestra’s Education Programme possible. This virtual concert hall remains the only one of its kind in the world, and you are warmly invited to enter it to explore the world of the Berliner Philharmoniker and enjoy great interpretations of timeless music.
